Crossfire El Salvador Crusades and Expansion

Mi familia y yo queremos a enviar saludos de El Salvador a todos nuestros paisanos! Greetings from El Salvador! We wanted to begin the winter newsletter by sharing some testimonies from our recent Crossfire El Salvador crusades, as well as give a general update on the progress and expansion of Crossfire across El Salvador.

This year we directed Crossfire camps and crusades worldwide under the theme “What will you choose?” in Spanish “Que vas a elegir?”. Over the past few months, we led “Que vas a elegir?” crusades in several states of El Salvador, as well as in Honduras and Nicaragua. In these crusades, I preached messages under the “Que vas a elegir theme” and we brought together Crossfire drama teams, dance teams and worship teams from many different churches.

Our crusade in Zacatecaluca, El Salvador, featured guest worship led by Ricardo Quinteros an internationally known worship leader. The governor of the state of La Paz was also invited come to this crusade, and he received prayer from our team of pastors and the audience. Before each of these crusades, we took teams of Crossfire leaders out into the streets, and door-to-door to evangelize and invite people to the crusade. These teams led many people to Christ, including several gang members and prostitutes. Through the crusades we reached out to thousands of people, with hundreds accepting Christ in the alter calls. In the Zacatecaluca crusade alone 1,500 came. Here are a couple video links from the Zacatecaluca crusade:

In the short time that we have been in El Salvador, we have already seen God move in major ways, and major expansion has taken place. Crossfire has now been implemented in many churches across 8 of the 14 states of El Salvador. Each week, we travel to a different Crossfire cell group, in various parts of El Salvador, to help lead the cell lessons and encourage these new leaders. At times, two hours before the cell groups start, we lead the members of the cell groups in evangelism on the streets and from door-to-door. Through the cell groups and evangelism, we are weekly seeing youth and young adults accept Christ, become a part of the Crossfire cell groups, and become members of these churches.

Each month we bring together the main Crossfire leaders from the churches across El Salvador for corporate prayer, receiving the month's crossfire lessons, planning major events together, and for monthly times of discipleship.

In 2016, along with directing the other Crossfire camps, crusades, and mission trips globally, we plan to expand Crossfire into the remaining 6 of the 14 states of El Salvador and grow and expand the camps and crusades in Central America. We also plan to lead mission trips from El Salvador to Honduras, Nicaragua, Peru, and Chile to direct evangelistic crusades, implement Crossfire in new churches, and train new leaders.

Crossfire Honduras and Nicaragua Mission September of 2015

During the last week of September, we led our second mission trip this year to Nicaragua and Honduras from El Salvador. On this trip, we led the first Crossfire crusades ever in both countries. In Honduras our Crossfire Honduras "Que vas a Elegir?" Crusade Salvation Alter Call crusade was held in a remote area, 30 minutes outside of Choluteca. Most people in this area were on horses rather than driving cars. Our first night there, we trained 100 new Crossfire cell leaders and assistants in 9 new churches. We helped these pastors choose cell leaders, assistants, locations, and times for the cell groups to meet.

The following day, four hours before the crusade, we went out with these new leaders for evangelism in the streets and door-to-door. We saw an incredible response to the evangelism, as dozens of people accepted Christ before the crusade had even started.

We had over 400 youth and young adults come to this crusade, with standing room only in the church. Two hundred youth and young adults came from the 9 churches that we are working with, and 200 came off the streets. We saw over 300 accept Christ, and had an extremely powerful time of ministry time. Many youth and young adults were also filled with the Holy Spirit and touched by the power of God.

Through this crusade God ignited a fire and passion in these youth and young adults. Since we have left, these new Crossfire leaders immediately started their new cell groups, have been active in evangelism, and have been asking their pastors if they can pray for 100 hours straight in their churches.

Next year, teams of Crossfire leaders from Nicaragua and Honduras will travel to the Crossfire El Salvador camp in March. We plan to return to Nicaragua and Honduras in September for the Crusades and to train new Crossfire leaders.
